Welcome Back!

The Department of Geography is excited to announce that a new BS-MSGIS program has been approved! Students who are now in their Junior Year can apply to the program. By taking a specific set of courses in your Senior Year plus one additional year of coursework, you can complete both your Bachelors in Geography and Masters of Science in GIS concurrently.

Our goal with this new program is to put students on a fast track towards careers in GIS.

The Undergraduate Research Opportunities Program provides funds for undergraduate students to perform research projects working with faculty mentors. UROP provides assistantships up to $1,200 for any first-time student who assists with a faculty member’s research or creative project, or who carries out a project of his or her own under the supervision of a faculty member. Students may apply for an assistantship any semester (summer included), and may be eligible for a one-semester renewal. UROP recipients are hired by the Office of Undergraduate Research and are paid $10/hour for up to 120 hours of work during the semester. Deadline for applications for Spring, 2016 is November 6, 2015.

Contact a Geography faculty mentor now to begin application.

The Department of Geography at the University of Utah is selected by NGA-USGS as a Center of Academic Excellence!

The program is a new endeavor designed to cultivate centers of academic excellence in geospatial sciences, content processing, trade craft methodologies, and research and development technologies. NGA and USGS recognize the inherent value of investing in the future geospatial workforce and the CAE Geospatial Sciences program supports that goal.
