Come and Enjoy the Blast of Traveling Around China and Asia!

This class is designed to make students aware of and familiar with:

- The basic concepts of China and Asia’s geography and development
- The various natural environments, societies, governances, economies and politics in the major regions of China and Asia
- The current activities and problems of China and Asia under the background of globalization